

Live Well Community Market Program

The Live Well Community Market Program is run by UC San Diego Center for Community Health (based in City Heights) and is a project of the County of San Diego Health & Human Services Agency. You might be familiar with Live Well San Diego. We're happy to offer you FREE business assistance to help your market/store become a healthier market for your community.

Participation requires the following: regular meetings (minimum 2x month) and communication with someone who can make decisions for the market (owner or manager, typically), attendance of one workshop per year, maintain good standing as a CalFresh SNAP EBT authorized retailer, make progress on your action plan to advance a minimum of one level in the program, and share inventory or sales data (this can remain confidential) to help us track your success.

Please complete your contact information below. Your signature means you acknowledge our assistance is free to you and you agree to participate in the program on behalf of your market.
